When we look at traditional health-care systems, we are seeing systems that are effective, that are locally available, that are affordable, and that are sustainable.

Rigla brand outlets operate in a modern “health pharma market” pharmacy format, with open display of products and a uniform, high standard of service.

The intestines can produce glucose too. So consumption of dietary fibre improves glucose control and improves insulin sensitivity.